

Dhan uh pareet charan sang laagee

ਕੰਨ੍ਹ ਮਹਿ ॥ 5 ॥ (1301-9)	kaan r haa mehlāa 5.	Kaanraa, Fifth Mehl:
Din ah pliq crn slig l ॥gl ॥	D han uh paree t charan sang laagee.	Blessed is that love, which is attuned to the Lord's Feet.
kōt j ॥p qwp sK pwey Awe iml y pl'n bfB ॥gl ॥1॥ rhau ॥	kot jaap t aap suk h paa-ay aa-ay milay pooran bad b haagee. 1 rahaa-o.	The peace which comes from millions of chants and deep meditations is obtained by perfect good fortune and destiny. 1 Pause
mōh AnuQu dīsu j nu qrw Avr Et sgl l mōh iqA ॥gl ॥	mohi anaath d aas jan t ayraa avar ot saglee mohi t i-aagee.	I am Your helpless servant and slave; I have given up all other support.
Bṛ Brm kṛtpB ismrq igAwn Aḷ n imil swq j ॥gl ॥1॥	b hor b haram kaatay parabh simrat gi-aan anjan mil sovat j aagee. 1	Every trace of doubt has been eradicated, remembering God in meditation. I have applied the ointment of spiritual wisdom, and awakened from my sleep. 1
qḷAQw hu Aiq bfōsA wml ikp isḌu pl'n rqn ॥gl ॥	t oo athaahu at bado su-aamee kirpaa sin D h pooran rat n aagee.	You are Unfathomably Great and Utterly Vast, O my Lord and Master, Ocean of Mercy, Source of Jewels.
nwnkuj wcku hir hir nwnm ॥gl msqku Awin DirE pB p ॥gl ॥2॥7॥18॥	naanak jaachak har har naam maa ^N gai mastak aan D hari-o parabh paagee. 2 7 18	Nanak, the beggar, begs for the Name of the Lord, Har, Har; he rests his forehead upon God's Feet. 2 7 18