

ray paapee tai kavan kee mat leen

saarg mhl w 5] (1225-4)	saarag mehlaa 5.	Saarang, Fifth Mehl:
ry pwp qf kvn kl miq l In]	ray paapee tai kavan kee mat leen.	O sinner, who taught you to sin?
inmK Grl n ismir sAaml j lau iplFuuj in dln]1] rhau]	nimak h gharee na simar su-aamee jee-o pind jin d een. 1 rahaa-o.	You do not contemplate your Lord and Master, even for an instant; it was He who gave you your body and soul. 1 Pause
Kwq plvq svltj sKIAw nmmu ismrq Kln]	k haat peevat savant suk hee-aa naam simrat k heen.	Eating, drinking and sleeping, you are happy, but contemplating the Naam, the Name of the Lord, you are miserable. grB andr ibl l wt krqw qhW hwq dln]1]	garab h udar billaat kartaa t ahaa ^N hovat d een. 1	In the womb of your mother, you cried and whined like a wretch. 1
mhw mwd ibkwr bwdw Aink j in Bknln]	mahaa maad bikaar baa D haa anik jon b harmeen.	And now, bound by great pride and corruption, you shall wander in endless incarnations.
gobnd ibsrykvn dK gnIAih sikuwnk hir pd cln@]2]85]108]	gobind bisray kavan d uk h ganee- ah suk h naanak har pad cheen ^H . 2 85 108	You have forgotten the Lord of the Universe; what misery will be your lot now? O Nanak, peace is found by realizing the sublime state of the Lord. 2 85 108