

Gadget Sikh ①

One day people were doing ardaas in the gurudwara. After ardaas the people went to langar. A Sikh got a call, it was a unknown number but he picked it up anyway a man in the phone said that they need him. The Sikh said, "Why do you need me." The man in the phone said that he is one of the police men and that there is danger near where you are. It is in Bathinda, Mital Mall. The Sikh said that he'll be there in 10-20 minutes but that Sikh wasn't an ordinary Sikh. He was Gadget Sikh!

When the police needed him he would show up and fix the problem. Gadget Sikh had many gadgets and his intelligence to fight off bad guys. When he was on his way he saw some people wearing some weird masks. Gadget Sikh knew right away that they were the people

He followed them into a weird room. They were whispering something but Gadget Sikh could not listen so he took out his gadget so he could listen. The people saw Gadget Sikh and started going after him. Gadget Sikh took another gadget, the sleeping hook out and hit them with it. They all fell on the ground and started snoring. Gadget Sikh had got the information he needed but felt that someone was following him. A bat swung at Gadget Sikh's head and he fell on the ground.

Gadget Sikh found himself tied in a chair and his arms in the back. The bad guys' boss Manmukh came to Gadget Sikh and said, "Now the Mital Mall is going to explode and I'll just be sitting and watching people ask for help ha ha ha ha ha!" Gadget Sikh felt like he let everyone down. He saw a knife on the ground. Manmukh told his people, "Let's get some samose." After he was gone Gadget Sikh tried to get the knife with the help of his legs because the knife was almost in front of him. Gadget Sikh kept trying and finally he succeeded. He threw the knife in the back of the wall, it bounced and the grip of the knife landed into his hand. He freed his hand and legs but after he was free, only the bad guys came back and ran after him. Gadget Sikh threw his sleep bomb and everyone fell on the ground except for one buff guy. So it was a one on one fight.

The bad guy tried to kick Gadget Sikh in the face but Gadget Sikh quickly dodged that and hit him in the stomach with his electro rock so the bad guy got electricuted. Gadget Sikh went straight to Mital Mall and saw Manmukh planting a bomb he stoped him right and told him, "Why do you hate this mall so much?" Manmukh said, "My family had a house right where this mall is standing. When a man told us to evacuate and said, "We'll give you a home somewhere else." We did it happily but no one gave us a home so we had to live on the streets and my family died because of hunger. It was only me who survived. So, I want to explde this mall!"

Gadget Sikh told him to do naam simran and go to a gurudwara and all your problems will go away but manmukh didn't listen and set the bomb and ran away. Gadget Sikh ran to the bomb. Manmukh
