

sookh mahal jaa kay ooch du-aaray shl mhl w 5] (739-13)	soohee mehlaa 5.	Soohee, Fifth Mehl:

sK mhl j w kyat dAwry]	sookh mahal jaa kay ooch du-aaray.	His Mansions are so comfortable, and His gates are so lofty.
qw mih vAsih Bgq ipAwry]1]	taa meh vaaseh bhagat pi-aaray. 1	Within them, His beloved devotees dwell. 1 shj kQw pB kl AiQ mlTI]	sahj kathaa parabh kee at meethee.	The Natural Speech of God is so very sweet.
ivrl YkwhUngqhu fITI]1] rhwau]	virlai kaahoo naytarahu deethee. 1 rahaa-o.	How rare is that person, who sees it with his eyes. 1 Pause
qh glq nwd AKwry slg]	tah geet naad akhaaray sangaa.	There, in the arena of the congregation, the divine music of the Naad, the sound current, is sung.
alh slq krih hir rlg]2]	oohee sant karahi har rangaa. 2	There, the Saints celebrate with their Lord. 2
qh mxun j lvxusgun hrKw]	tah maran na jeevan sog na harkhaa.	Neither birth nor death is there, neither pain nor pleasure.
swc nwm kl Alimq vrKw]3]	saach naam kee amrit varkhaa. 3	The Ambrosial Nectar of the True Name rains down there. 3
ghj kQw ieh gur qyj wxl]	guhaj kathaa ih gur tay jaanee.	From the Guru, I have come to know the mystery of this speech.
nwnkubd Yhir hir bwxl]4]6]12]	naanak bolai har har bane. 4 6 12	Nanak speaks the Bani of the Lord, Har, Har. 4 6 12