

jaahoo kaahoo apuno hee chit aavai

saarg mhl ¶ 5 ] (1215-11)	saarag mehlaa 5.	Saarang, Fifth Mehl:
j whlkwhl Apnohl iciq Awl ]	jaahoo kaahoo apuno hee chit aavai.	Wherever he goes, his consciousness turns to his own.
j o kwhl ko cyrohwq Twkur hl pih j wv ]1] rhwau ]	jo kaahoo ko chayro hovat tha akur hee peh jaavai.   1   rahaa-o.	Whoever is a chaylaa
Apny pih dK Apny pih sKw Apnyhl pih ibrQw ]	apnay peh dookh apunay peh sook h aa apnay hee peh birthaa.	He shares his sorrows, his joys and his condition only with his own.
Apny pih minu Apny pih qnw Apnyhl pih ArQw ]1]	apunay peh maan apunay peh ta anaa apnay hee peh arthaa.   1	He obtains honor from his own, and strength from his own; he gets an advantage from his own.   1 ikn hl rñj j bnuDn iml Kw ikn hl bwp mhqwl ]	kin hee raaj joban D han mil k haa kin hee baap meht a aree.	Some have regal power, youth, wealth and property; some have a father and a mother.
srb Qk nwnk gur pweypln Aws hmwrl ]2]34]57]	sarab thok naanak gur paa-ay pooran aas hamaaree.   2  34  57	I have obtained all things, O Nanak, from the Guru. My hopes have been fulfilled.   2  34  57