

jee-aa^N kuhaṭ na sangai paraanee

gaṢI mhi w 5] (201-2)	ga-or ^h ee mehlaa 5.	Gauree, Fifth Mehl:
DqI KiI ivCweyhiT]	D ^h otee k ^h ol vich ^h aa-ay hay ^h .	He opens his loin-cloth, and spreads it out beneath him.
grDp vlgll whypjt]1]	garD ^h ap vaa ^N goo laahay payt. 1	Like a donkey, he gulps down all that comes his way. 1 ibnu krq ^h l mikiq n pweIAI]	bin kartootee muk ^h ṭ na paa-ee-ai.	Without good deeds, liberation is not obtained.
mikiq pdwrQu nwmu iDAweIAI]1] rhwau]	muk ^h ṭ padaarath naam D ^h i-aa-ee-ai. 1 rahaa-o.	The wealth of liberation is only obtained by meditating on the Naam, the Name of the Lord. 1 Pause pj w iql k krq iesnwnW]	poojaa ṭilak karaṭ isnaanaa ^N .	He performs worship ceremonies, applies the ceremonial tilak mark to his forehead, and takes his ritual cleansing baths;
CrI kwiF I yVhiQ dwnw]2]	ch ^h uree kaadh layvai hath daanaa. 2	he pulls out his knife, and demands donations. 2
bdupVmiK mITi buxl]	bayd par ^h ai muk ^h meet ^h ee ba ^h nee.	With his mouth, he recites the Vedas in sweet musical measures, j IAW khq n stlyprixl]3]	jee-aa ^N kuhaṭ na sangai paraanee. 3	and yet he does not hesitate to take the lives of others. 3
khu nwnk ij suikrpw DwrY]	kaho naanak jis kirpaa D ^h aarai.	Says Nanak, when God showers His Mercy, ihrdw sDu bhmublcwrY]4]107]	hir ^h daa suD ^h barahm beecharai. 4 107	even his heart becomes pure, and he contemplates God. 4 107