

in biDh ih man hari-aa ho-ay

bs ṭ u m h l w 3] (1176-19)	basant mehlāa 3.	Basant, Third Mehl:
bs ṭ u ciVAw P l I bnrw ie]	basant char h i-aa foolee banraa-ay.	Spring has come, and all the plants are flowering.
ejh j IA j ṭ P l ih hir ic q l ie]1]	ayhi jee-a jant fooleh har chit laa-ay. 1	These beings and creatures blossom forth when they focus their consciousness on the Lord. 1
ien ibiD ieh u mn u hirA w h ie]	in bi Dh ih man hari-aa ho-ay.	In this way, this mind is rejuvenated.
hir hir n u m u j p'ldn u r u q l gurm i k ham'kFYD ie]1] rh au]	har har naam japai d in raat ee gurmuk h ha-umai kad h ai D ho-ay. 1 rahaa-o.	Chanting the Name of the Lord, Har, Har, day and night, egotism is removed and washed away from the Gurmukhs. 1 Pause si g g r b u x l sbdu s u w ey]	satgur bane e sabad sun aa -ay.	The True Guru speaks the Bani of the Word, and the Shabad, the Word of God.
ieh u j guhirA w si g g r B u ey]2]	ih jag hari-aa satgur b haa-ay. 2	This world blossoms forth in its greenery, through the love of the True Guru. 2
P l P l I w g y j W A w py I u ey]	fal fool laagay jaa ^N aapay laa-ay.	The mortal blossoms forth in flower and fruit, when the Lord Himself so wills.
m u l I g'qW si g g r u p u ey]3]	mool lagai t aa ^N satgur paa-ay. 3	He is attached to the Lord, the Primal Root of all, when he finds the True Guru. 3
A w ip bs ṭ u j g u sB u v u VI]	aap basant jagat sab h vaar h ee.	The Lord Himself is the season of spring; the whole world is His Garden.
n u nk p u YB u ig B g iq in u l I]4]5]17]	naanak poorai b haag b hagat niraalee. 4 5 17	O Nanak, this most unique devotional worship comes only by perfect destiny. 4 5 17