

jaa ka-o aa-i-o ayk rasaa

Dnwsrl mU 5 ] (672-8)	Dhanaasree mehlāa 5.	Dhanaasaree, Fifth Mehl:
I vYn I wgn kauhYkCIAj w kau iPir iehuDwv ]	lavai na laagan ka-o hai kachhoo -ai jaa ka-o fir ih Dhaavai .	Nothing which this mortal being runs after, can compare to it.
j w kaugir dInoiehuAimkq iqs hl kaubin Awv ]1]	jaa ka-o gur deeno ih amrit tis hee ka-o ban aavai.   1	He alone comes to have it, whom the Guru blesses with this Ambrosial Nectar.   1
j w kauAwieE ekursw ] Kun pwn Aw nhl KiDAw qw kYiciq n bsw ] rhwau ]	jaa ka-o aa-i-o ayk rasaa. khaan paan aan nahee khuDhi -aa taa kai chit na basaa. rahaa-o.	The desire to eat, to wear new clothes, and all other desires, do not abide in the mind of one who comes to know the subtle essence of the One Lord.   Pause mail E mnuqnuhieE hirAw ek bW ij in pwel ]	ma-uli-o man tan ho-i-o hari-aa ayk boond jin paa-ee.	The mind and body blossom forth in abundance, when one receives even a drop of this Nectar.
brin n swkauasqiq qw kl klmiq khxun j wel ]2]	baran na saaka-o ustat taa kee keemat kahan na jaa-ee.   2	I cannot express His glory; I cannot describe His worth.   2
Gwl n imil E sy n imil E imil E Awie Aichtw ]	ghaal na mili-o sayv na mili-o mili-o aa-ay achintaa.	We cannot meet the Lord by our own efforts, nor can we meet Him through service; He comes and meets us spontaneously.
j w kaudieAw krl myYTwkair iqin gurih kmwro mltw ]3]	jaa ka-o da -i-aa karee mayrai thaakur tin gureh kamaano manntaa.   3	One who is blessed by my Lord Master's Grace, practices the Teachings of the Guru's Mantra.   3
dIn dVaw sdw ikrpwl w srb j lAw plqpwl w ]	deen dai -aal sadaa kirpaalaa sarab jee-aa partipaalaa.	He is merciful to the meek, always kind and compassionate; He cherishes and nurtures all beings.
Eiq piq nwnk slfg rivAw ij au mwqw bwl gpwl w ]4]7]	ot pot naanak sang ravi-aa ji-o maataa baal gopaalaa.   4  7	The Lord is mingled with Nanak, through and through; He cherishes him, like the mother her child.   4  7