

ghanhar boond basu-a romaaval kusam basant ganant na aavai

sveleymhl yqlj yky 3, BI ' (1396-6)	sava-ee-ay mahlay teejay kay 3, bhal	Swaiyas In Praise Of The Third Mehl, Bhal
Gnhr blll bsA romvil ksm bslq gnq n Avl]	ghanhar boond basu-a romaaval kusam basant ganant na aavai.	The raindrops of the clouds, the plants of the earth, and the flowers of the spring cannot be counted.
riv sis ikrix andrusgr ko ghy qrlq Alku ko puvl]	rav sas kiran udar saagar ko gang tarang ant ko paavai.	Who can know the limits of the rays of the sun and the moon, the waves of the ocean and the Ganges?
rudriDAwn igAwn siqgr kykib j n BI ' anh j ugvv]	rudr Dhi-aan gi-aan satgur kay kab jan bhal-y unah jo gaavai.	With Shiva's meditation and the spiritual wisdom of the True Guru, says BHALL the poet, these may be counted.
BI y Amrdas gx qry qrl apm qih bin Avl] 1] 22]	bhalay amardaas gun tayray tayree upmaa tohi ban aavai. 1 22	O Guru Amar Daas, Your Glorious Virtues are so sublime; Your Praises belong only to You. 1 22